

LATEST EDITION

"CARDINAL LORDS."

JALISBY'S ALLEGED BARGAIN WITH THE VATICAN FOR SUPPORT.

The Papal Decree Still Existing. Political Circles in England and Ireland—Amending the Local Government Bill—Mr. Chamberlain Announces His Engagement to Miss Endicott—Thomas Dickson Consents to Be a Candidate—Emperor Frederick's Condition—Foreign News.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, May 2.—The discussion continues as to how far devout Catholics are bound to obey the injunctions of the Papal decree. A writer in the Dublin Freeman's Journal, said to be a high ecclesiastic, states that such decrees are not issued in virtue of the Church's teaching, authority or magisterium, but of legislative and administrative power or imperial, and though confirmed by the Pope, its purpose is to be an ex-cathedra utterance, because not utterances of power at all, but of a particular congregation of Cardinals, though approved by the Pope, and that there is no obligation to accept such decisions as infallibly correct. Moreover, he refers to individual cases of conscience, to which it is not claimed the infallibility of the Pope extends. Mr. Gladstone, who met Mr. Parnell at a dinner party Monday night, shares the Nationalist leader's opinion that the Papal decree will, on the whole, rather strengthen than weaken the cause of home rule, and that its opponents openly seek the aid of the Pope, they no longer will be able to make party capital out of the cry that home rule means Rome rule. People are wondering what Salsbury proposes doing for the Pope in return for the support so heartily given. It looks as though feelers were being put out. Already some supporters of the Government are declaring that when Salsbury's life peerage bill becomes a law, Cardinal Lords will be created. Probably the Pope's action is not distantly connected with education in Ireland, with a view to securing increased influence in that respect.

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BILL.

The Government who are always declaring the necessity of upholding the law, propose to set at naught the decision of the Judges that publicans have no proprietary interests in licenses; Caine having been unable to convince Ritchie of the impropriety of establishing compensation, proposes to change his tactics. He will move an amendment to the local Government bill, enacting that where drink is sold in a grant of houses in the immediate neighborhood shall be entitled to compensation for the consequent depreciation of their property.

LODGE DENMAN.

Lord Denman, whose bill limiting speeches in Parliament to ten minutes, was rejected yesterday, is a harmless old gentleman of feeble intellect, who makes violent harangues full of talk about conspiracies against him, which are treated with so little ceremony that the motion of adjournment is frequently moved and carried.

IT IS TRUE.

Mr. Chamberlain Announces His Engagement to Miss Endicott.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, May 2.—The Star of last evening says: "Mr. Chamberlain took the opportunity of a large dinner which he had yesterday of declaring emphatically that he was engaged to Miss Endicott. Around the hospitable board of the ex-bald man member for Birmingham on that occasion were assembled Mr. Arthur Baldwin, Col. Sanderson and Lord Randolph Churchill—'birth, bigotry and brass' in its moral sense. Under its material aspect that metal was represented by Mr. Vanderbilt, who is worth about $38,000,000.

England.

SUPERIOR'S HEALTH.

LONDON, May 2.—Mr. Charles H. Sprague, who is visiting Bournemouth for the benefit of his health, has written a letter in which he says he is ill and worn out and that he is hardly able to keep on at all.

BRIGHT'S ADVICE.

At the Newmarket Spring meeting to day the race for the 2,000 guineas stake was won by the Duke of Portland's bay colt Ayrshire. The same owner's bay colt Johnny Morgan, was second, and the Duke of Westminster's chestnut colt, Orbit, third. There were six starters.

Ireland.

DECKER'S CANDIDATE.

LONDON, May 2.—Thomas Dickson, on the invitation of Mr. Parnell, has consented to become a candidate for member of Parliament for the St. Stephen's Green Division of this city. It is believed that his candidacy will have a reassuring effect upon the Presbyterians in Ulster, who will consider it a token of good-will on the part of the Nationalists of Dublin. Mr. Dickson is the only man among the candidates of Parliament from the North of Ireland who is in full agreement with Mr. Gladstone, and being a large employer of labor in the North his candidacy is likely to evoke the sympathy of the workingmen of Dublin.

THE PAPAL HERESY.

At a private conference held yesterday, the priests of West Clare discussed the Papal decree against the League. The speeches made were of a confidential character. No definite line of action was resolved upon. The priests of Clare were indifferent towards the heresies and are decided to adhere to the entire programme of the League.

THE VATICAN AND THE IRISH.

LONDON, May 2.—It is stated that the papal decree and Cardinal Monaco's circular to the bishops are considered preliminary steps to further action in Irish affairs. A special congregation of the Propaganda, composed exclusively of cardinals, is now examining several questions relative to the Irish agitation, upon which it will probably vote. Cardinal Simeoni has submitted at least ten points to the congregation. The Vatican powers will place themselves outside the pale of moral and Christian law. The Vatican does not doubt that the Irish bishops will feel the necessity of adopting the line of conduct the Vatican prescribes.

TRAIL OF WILLIAM O'BRIEN.

The trial of Mr. William O'Brien, M. P., who was arrested April 14 on his arrival at Kingston from London in consequence of a speech made at Lougheed, was resumed to-day. When the case was called the magistrate announced that during the night the office of the Court of Sessions had been broken into by burglars, who stole a number of depositions and warrants, and that it would therefore be necessary to reopen the case at the beginning.

France.

THE LEAGUE OF ACTION.

LONDON, May 2.—The first meeting of the League of Action was held last evening. There were present about two hundred youth, supporters of Boulangist and three Boulangist members of the Chamber of Deputies besides Deputy Laguerre. It was announced that this had not advanced far enough to permit the formation of a programme.

NAQUET EXCLUDED.

Senator Naquet has been formally excluded from the Extreme Left on account of his anti-social activities.

CONFERENCE OF THE BOULANGIST MOVEMENT.

The Senators of the Extreme Left at a meeting yesterday almost unanimously condemned the Boulangist movement.

Germany.

THE NORTH GERMAN GIFT.

BERLIN, May 2.—The Independent Rifflemen of New York have sent to Empress Auguste 1,000 marks for the relief of the flood victims, as a grateful remembrance of her kind reception of them at Coblenz in 1855. They intend their intention to celebrate their annual festival in 1889 in Berlin.

PASSED A GOOD NIGHT.

The bulletin issued this morning says that the Emperor passed a good night last night and that he feels better. His fever is slight.

ABSOLUTE INVENTIONS.

The North German Gazette says the press reports to the effect that Queen Victoria and Prince Bismarck at their recent interview discussed the Brunswick succession were absolute inventions.

The Netherlands.

PARLIAMENT OPENED.

THE HAGUE, May 2.—Parliament was opened yesterday. The Prime Minister announced that a royal commission would be appointed to consider the question of national defense. The finances of the country were in a favorable condition. The Government, he said, was examining the feasibility of increasing the import duties.

Cuba.

THE STATE OF SIEGE.

HAVANA, May 2.—The state of siege declared in several provinces of Cuba is owing entirely to the desire of the Government to put an end to brigandage in those sections. Politically the island could not be quieter.

Morocco.

THE DISPUTE REOPENED.

TANGIER, May 2.—The Sultan refuses to submit the difference between Morocco and the United States in reference to the men imprisoned at Rabat to arbitration and the dispute has been reopened.

The Dominion.

THE FISHERMEN PROTECTION SERVICE.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 2.—The fisherman protection service will be inaugurated about the 10th of May. The operations at the outlet will be put into full swing at the Bay of Fundy and the west coast of Nova Scotia.

A BIG LOAN.

Sir Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

THE LEADERSHIP.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

Mr. Charles Tupper has agreed to will ask Parliament for authority to borrow $25,000,000 for the purpose of paying the floating debt of the Dominion. The rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent per annum.

DIGNIFIED SENATORS.

INGALLS AND VOORHEES BANDY VIGOROUS EPITHESES.

The Kansas Leader the Tall Spearmen on His War Record—Retorts That Were Hardly Courteous—The Indian Calls His Antagonist a Great Liar and a Dirty Dog—He Also Attacks Representative Johnston of Indiana—An impartial Galley Applause Both Speakers.

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 1.—There was more personality in the Ingalls-Voorhees debate of yesterday than either participant expected when Ingalls arose to reply to Voorhees' eulogy of McClellan and Hancock. A portion of Ingalls' speech was telegraphed to the Post-DISPATCH yesterday. The crowded gallery enjoyed the passage hugely and applauded the Kansas Senator. In this case, when they cheered, Ingalls forgot his temper in spite of personal abuse, but Voorhees got quite red and angry under the lashing. The following paragraph from Mr. Ingalls' speech stirred up the gallery and the Senators:

"Mr. President, from the impassioned eulogy, from the rhapsody of approbation that followed the speech of Senator Ingalls, the great military achievements of McClellan and Hancock I began to have some doubts who it was that really put the South into the war."

Was Ingalls referring to what was the attitude of the Democratic party in the North and of the Senator from Indiana, as one of its greatest leaders? The well-known ideal Democrat, was fighting the battle of Antietam; in 1863, when Hancock was hunting down in confederate and disloyal, the scattered squadrons of the Confederacy. It was really, for this moment, Mr. President, Indiana never left the Democratic party of the North, and the Senator from Indiana and those other great patriots whom he endures as an innovator of the Union, Mr. Thomas Hendricks and Mr. Horatio Seymour and William A. Richardson, were in the same camp, while Ingalls, as a member of the anti-slavery party, was fighting the battle of Antietam; in 1863, when Hancock was hunting down in confederate and disloyal, the scattered squadrons of the Confederacy.

It was the attitude of the North and the Senator from Indiana that Ingalls was referring to when he had made to the solid South, and the debate closed.

What business the Democratic party of Indiana had been engaged in during the war. Seventy thousand of them had been members of the Knights of the Golden Circle, and had been fighting against the Union. They had entered into combination (according to Gen. Holt) for the purpose of subversive, to cover, and encourage, enlisting, circulating treasonable publications, and giving information to the enemy. They had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it.

Very well, said every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record. "You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the public opinion of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhees' services, always against it."

Very well,

and every word Ingalls had uttered on the subject was absolutely false by record.

"You say," he cried, "that an eccentric of public opinion—of the kind, never in the world. I fought for free speech and a free press, and the man who says otherwise is a falsifier."

McClellan, however, said, "by a man who had been a soldier, he had always been on the side of his country, not as were Voorhe

St. Louis Post-Dispatch,
PUBLISHED BY
THE DISPATCH PUBLISHING CO.,
JOSEPH PULITZER, President.

[Entered at the Post-Office at St. Louis, Mo., as second-class mail matter.]

TERMS OF THE DAILY.

One year, postage paid, every afternoon and Sunday morning. $10.00

Six months. 5.00

Three months. 3.00

By the week (delivered by carrier). 2.00

Sunday edition, by express. 3.00

Subscribers who fail to receive their papers regularly, will entitle a favor upon us by reporting the same to this office by postal card.

THE WEEKLY.

One year, postage paid. $1.00

Six months, postage paid. 60

All business or news letters or telegrams
should be addressed.

POST-DISPATCH,
513 Olive street.

TELEGRAPH NUMBERS.

Editorial Rooms 285

Business Office 284

London Office, 33 Cockspur-Street, Charing
Cross.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1888.

AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

OUTDOORS—"The World Against Her."
PEOPLES—"Daniel Boone, the Pioneer."
POPE'S—"Night Off."

STANDARD—"Rents-Santley Novelty Co."

GYCLORAMA—"Battle of Bull Run."

The indications for twenty-four hours commencing at 3 p. m. to-day
for Missouri are: Slightly cooler, followed by warmer; severe local storms, followed by fair weather; fresh to brisk southerly winds.

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

THE forgotten scandals and campaigns
of twenty election contests are re-hashed and dumped upon a disgusted country by the President of the Senate to divert the attention of overtaxed farmers
and locked-out laborers from the live questions of the day.

THE Mexican Government has given a recognition of international comity in commuting the death sentence of the two officers who were found guilty of an armed invasion of our territory. MIN-STRAL BRAGG represented the public sentiment of this country in his application for mercy.

CITY COUNSELOR BELL has given his opinion that the Board of Public Improvements has a legal right to extend the time
for completing a contract, and the Fulton Iron-works will proceed at leisure. The probable cost of the work will be apportioned among the contractors.

Mr. INGALLS evidently feels that fighting the war over again in the Senate and at the polls is not enough. While admitting that slavery is dead and secession dead, he contends that they were killed in vain, that whatever was to be dredged in them is as rampant and dangerous as ever. He is not satisfied with the Union as it is, and he will never feel safe until the war is fought over in the field once more, the Union reconstructed and the South converted to the sweetness and light
of Kansas republicanism.

NEITHER the abolition of slavery nor the reconstruction of the State has changed the Mississippi plan of arguing public questions and settling personal disputes. A political controversy resulted in the killing of Editor GAMBLELL
of HAMILTON, and now the controversies growing out of the trial of HAMILTON have resulted in the mutual murder of Gen. WIRT ADAMS and JOHN H. MARTIN,
editor of the New Mississippian, who celebrated May-day by puncturing each other's hearts with bullets in a street fight. There can be no true freedom of the press and no true civilization where editors are killed off so rapidly as they are in Mississippi. If the killing is deserved or even palliated by extreme provocation that State must have a very savage lot of editors.

A PROOF that home rule is needed for Scotland is presented in the fact that the British Parliament is now considering a proposition to offer free land in Canada and $600 in money to each crofter family willing to emigrate from the islands and highlands of Scotland. The Ministry proposes this on the ground that law and order
are in imminent danger from a "congested population," an excess of people too poor
to emigrate without assistance, and driven to desperation by hunger. Yet there are vast areas of that region devoted to deer forests and other hunting grounds for the amusement of the noble and wealthy
few. ROSS WINANS, ANDREW CARNEGIE, VANDERBILT and other protected laborers
from the United States go over there and pay such high rents for these shooting grounds that Scottish landlords are encouraged to export more of the agricultural population and devote more of their land to game coverts. With home rule

the Scottish people would soon make extensive deer ranges and grouse moors as scarc as in Scotland as they are in Holland, Belgium or France.

BRAWLING SENATORS.

The United States Senate was yesterday
the scene of an incident, fortunately rare
in recent legislative annals, but none the less unfortunately disagreeable. The announcement that at a given time the President of the Senate will take the floor to reply to a Senator should not always be accepted as an intimation that the nation will be treated to a spectacle equal in interest to a dog-fight and not unlike it
in its features, provided a second combatant can be secured to make things lively.

This programme was carried out yesterday according to public expectation. The man who by the strange irony of fate has been called on to preside over the Senate gave his customary exhibition of gall and venom, delivering himself of a ten-column
speech which was from beginning to end
a mere outburst of malice and rancor,
with occasional eruptions of mendacity.
It was a deliberate appeal to all the worst passions of human nature, and a wilful
challenge to reprisals in kind.

It is to be regretted that Senator VOORHEES was unable to withstand the provocation, and that he let his temper get the better of him. His plain duty to himself and to his position was to refuse to take any notice whatever of the challenge and to bury it under the contempt of silence. It was beneath any reply he could make, and the decent sentiment of the country, nauseated by the Ingalls exhibition, is only further hurt by the contribution of VOORHEES.

There will be a general feeling of relief that the unpleasant ordeal is over, and as the exhibition has proved "weary, stale,
flat and unprofitable," there is a hope that it may not be repeated.

THE TIN SITUATION.

Continued Excitement on the New York
Metal Exchange.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his speech
for revision, but it will not be in demand
as a campaign document.

It is a mistake about old JOHN BROWN'S
body. His skeleton is rattling in the chair
of the President of the Senate.

WHEN a morning contemporary wished
to mention in big head-line letters the
"presumptuous ignorance" of the most
largely circulated paper in St. Louis, it
should not make all of the school children
tired by spelling it "presumptuous."

SENATOR INGALLS is holding his

ALL SORTS.

wants in "Sunday Morning Post."

to furnish houses will find everything out of the ordinary. We will have Bro's Great Installation
at 10 a.m.holding building association are anxious of getting a place
convenient to schools and cars

32

called for and delivered to 19 years experience. Telephone
No. 10 N. 10th st.

32

MOWERS

TABLE

Running into the Depot.

OUISS TIME.

(Except Saturday; 12 except
1 Mon. to Sat.)

DEPART. 1 Arrive.

ST. LOUIS RAILROAD.

* 8:30 a.m. 7:25 p.m.

* 8:30 a.m. 6:50 p.m.

THE NEW
Delicatessen Lunch Room,
716 N. BROADWAY.

CITY NEWS.

"A Man of Sense May Love like a madman, but never like a fool." He may also order his new spring suit made at Crawford's tailoring department at just half what he's been in the habit of paying.

Dr. E. C. Chase,
Corner of 9th and Olive streets. Set of teeth.

PRIVATE matters skillfully treated and medicines furnished. Dr. Dinsbeier, 615 Pine st.

DR. WHITNER, 617 St. Charles. Cures diseases of indiscretion, indulgences. Call or write.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

What President Cleveland Can Do to Retaliate on the Canadians.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 2.—If the Republicans in this State insist on the rejection of the fisheries treaty, as is said to be their intention, and if the Canadians thereupon continue their annoyances of American fishermen, there is likely to be a demand for such a proclamation of retaliation as the last Congress authorized. The act of Congress authorizes the President by proclamation to prohibit the entry of Canadian vessels into American ports, either sea or lake ports, or no man of any nation to import fish or salt, "or any other product" of Canada; or may include in the exclusion all goods coming from Canada, except those for our use.

The act empowers him to apply the exclusion to any or all of the points named, or to qualify it as far as he may reasonably require in the power to lay an embargo against Canada, not only in respect to her products, but also against the products of any good which may be imported from Canada into the United States. It may be said, under the act of Congress, that he may, by proclamation, stop at once the large freighting business of the Great Lakes, while he may, by proclamation, stop the other products from Chicago, St. Louis and other points in the Western United States through Canada back into the Eastern United States.

As the act gives him the power of choosing which of all the exclusions he shall direct, it is said that he will do it, if it is necessary to issue a proclamation, to begin by ordering the exclusion of "all other goods." The act authorizes a general stop of the Canadian railroads and vessels carrying American grain and other products from our Western States to Eastern seaports. It could hardly be the hardest blow he could deal, because it would be dealt, not at the principle of the maritime products, who would like to do better than to go on good terms with us, but all the stockholders in the Canadian railroads, who are in the hands of the Canadian Government in authority in Ottawa. It is these who have caused the annoyances and continue to do so, and it is these who are in their most sensitive parts—their pockets.

Boys' Suits Made to Order for $10 and Youths' Suits Made to Order for $12
From New Spring Fabrics.

We are making Boys' School Suits to order from $10 to $20 and Boys' Dress Suits to order for $15 to $20, according to the quality of the fabrics selected. We make Youths' Suits to order for $15, $18, $20 and $25. SEE OUR SPRINGS BEFORE YOU VIE.

MILLS & AVERILL,
S. E. Cor. Broadway and Pine.

FARMER HILL'S VICTORY.

A New York Court Decides Against the Bureau of Animal Industry.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The case of the Government against Farmer Hill, the late Chester County, was decided on Monday by Judge Brown at Newark in the latter's favor. The bureau established under an act of Congress in 1884 was founded for the purpose of preventing the spread of pleuro-pneumonia and other contagious diseases among cattle. The bureau, acting under the provisions of the act, in this State, instructed its corps of inspectors to quarantine, tag and number all cattle in the counties of Chester, Philadelphia, and the Rich mond and West Chester. But when these inspectors came to the farm of Farmer Hill in West Chester, they found that the owner, who acted under the advice of his lawyer, Mr. Henry C. Henderson of West Chester, the inspecting returned with the Sheriff, but met with no resistance. The court, however, indicted Hill for resisting the Sheriff in the discharge of his duty and Mr. Jenkins of the city was indicted for perjury.

Hill's counsel demurred to the indictment and the argument of the demurres came before Justice D. C. Brown on Monday. Hill argued that the law of 1884 did not extend to this State, and that the State law of 1878 was valid, and that it was not necessary to comply with its requirements. Judge Brown on Monday rendered a decision sustaining the demurres of the plaintiff. Farmer Hill's resistance to the inspectors. For the first time, he thus declared to have been acting without authority of law, and actions will be brought against him.

Mr. Henderson, in speaking of the decision, said that under it a good many salaried officers of the government would be compelled to resign, and that they would be compelled to give up their jobs. The laws of the bureau were a farce. If it was in with the law, it was in with the law, and it was now into a poor herd, and report the case. The Government inspectors took the cattle of his horses, and many of them were worth. If a farmer was not with the law, he often lost his cattle without adequate compensation.

Solid silver teapots $6 per set. We want you to call if interested, and see our immense stock of Solid Silver Umbrellas and fancy pieces for bridal gifts, and see our low prices.

MERMOD & JACCARD JEWELRY CO.,
Cor. 4th and Locust.

Solid Silver Thimbles 25c, 60c and $1.

A NOTORIOUS SHOPLIFTER.

Lorenzo Campos and His Famous Ulster in the Police Court To-Day.

A small, lithe man, with straight hair of a jet black hue, and skin of a dark reddish-colored in his darkness, was before Judge Clark this morning. He wore a suit of blue broadcloth almost new; natty boots incased his small feet, and a huge, heavy slater, which reached almost down to his heels, completed his outward dress. The man was Lorenzo Campos, a Mexican, and he was charged with shoplifting. He was fined $500 and given until 9 o'clock this evening to leave the city. He is a most notorious shoplifter, storing his big capacious ulster with odds and ends. The second time he was arrested in this city, Detectives Badger and Flynn having picked him up in the street and run him in.

1,000 styles of dandy solid gold scroll pins for gentlemen and ladies now on display at the MERMOD & JACCARD JEWELRY CO.,
Cor. 4th and Locust.

Good Rain.

The Saengerbund Committee.

The monthly meeting of the Central Committee of the North American Saengerbund will be held in room 1 at the Westside Post Building this evening at 8 o'clock. There are some matters of importance to be considered.

LA BOUCHERE'S LETTER.
THE RESULT OF QUEEN VICTORIA'S RECENT VISIT TO GERMANY.

A Temporary Improvement in the German Emperor's Condition—Rare Fictions—Prince Bismarck and Queen Victoria—Prof. Huxley's Health—The Pope and the Irish—Entertainments at the English Court—Social and Political Gossip.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

London, May 2.—My correspondent at Berlin writes: "The Queen's visit, which by the way, was officially announced to be private in order to avoid dispute about social etiquette and precedence, has brought about a temporary reconciliation between the Emperor and the Crown Prince, and may be hoped for a woman of much common sense when dealing with affairs of other people, has impressed upon her oldest daughter the necessity which exists for her to take more pains to conciliate German susceptibilities. So far the new Empress has not been a success. The improvement in the Emperor's health is merely temporary, and here is now no hope of his being prolonged for more than a few weeks. All kinds of ridiculous stories are being circulated about her, and I have the authority for stating that the interview with the Court Chaplain, in which he is alleged to have desired that his release might be prayed for, never took place, and the tales of his pathetic messages to Field Marshal von Blumenthal and His Majesty's old valet are pure fiction. The Queen was received here with marked indifference. But the authorities were so afraid of hostile demonstrations that the Rev. Dr. Martin of the First Presbyterian Church in Berlin, who is a personal friend of the Queen, was compelled to remain at the Episcopal Church in this city to-morrow. St. Clair Lodge No. 30, U. O. H. will give an annual dinner at Kneehole's Hall this evening.

The pupils of St. Henry's School will give a musical and literary entertainment this evening at St. Henry's Hall.

Ice Pitchers $5 to $12.

Quadruple Silver-Plated, finest qualities.

Come and see our grand stock.

MERMOD & JACCARD JEWELRY CO.,
Cor. 4th and Locust.

FLOWING WITH MILK.

Quaker Scene Near the Exposition Building and the Cause of It.

To the immigrant this country is represented as a "land flowing with milk and honey." While this is generally accepted as figurative, there was a literal demonstration, as far as the milk is concerned, at Thirteenth and Olive streets this morning. Pedestrians stopped to gaze at the unusual sight of a stream of milk flowing over the east side of the Exposition building. There was no mistake. It was the genuine article. The milk was being poured from a pail of the curd on the corner, contributing a pale tinge to the ordinary dusky color of the building. It was the property of Bowmen, a milk dealer at Franklin and Franklin avenues. Early this morning one of his men, named Fisher, started a wagon with a woman and a big load of milk. The horse ran away, the wagon was upset, throwing Fisher out and the wagon was a total wreck and employees of Bowmen were engaged until 11:30 o'clock collecting the broken pieces and paraphernalia usually attached to a milk wagon.

PROF. HUXLEY.

Prof. Huxley who is now staying at Bournemouth, has been seriously ill during the spring, and he has been ordered to proceed to Switzerland for the benefit of his health as soon as the weather becomes fine and settled.

THE POPE AND THE IRISH.

There can be no doubt that the Pope's decision about the Irish question is the result of an intrigue. The Duke of Norfolk was sent to Rome to congratulate the Pope on his jubilee. The Duke of Norfolk is in a position to urge on behalf of Balcombe in Ireland.

The immigrant this country is represented as a "land flowing with milk and honey." While this is generally accepted as figurative, there was a literal demonstration, as far as the milk is concerned, at Thirteenth and Olive streets this morning. Pedestrians stopped to gaze at the unusual sight of a stream of milk flowing over the east side of the Exposition building. There was no mistake. It was the genuine article. The milk was being poured from a pail of the curd on the corner, contributing a pale tinge to the ordinary dusky color of the building. It was the property of Bowmen, a milk dealer at Franklin and Franklin avenues. Early this morning one of his men, named Fisher, started a wagon with a woman and a big load of milk. The horse ran away, the wagon was upset, throwing Fisher out and the wagon was a total wreck and employees of Bowmen were engaged until 11:30 o'clock collecting the broken pieces and paraphernalia usually attached to a milk wagon.

PROF. HUXLEY.

Prof. Huxley who is now staying at Bournemouth, has been seriously ill during the spring, and he has been ordered to proceed to Switzerland for the benefit of his health as soon as the weather becomes fine and settled.

THE COMING DRAWING-ROOM.

The drawing-room of next Wednesday will be notable for the absence of the Prince and Princess of Wales, who will not have returned to London from their expedition into Glasgow and Blackburn. The Queen will probably receive the whole of the company, only a small attendance is expected. But if Her Majesty should get tired, the later arrivals will be received by Princess Christian. The first State ball will probably be given on Thursday, the 1st, and the first concert on Wednesday, June 6.

A FOOLISH REPORT.

There is no shadow of foundation for the report that the Prince of Wales contemplates a visit to America next year in company with the Duke of Sutherland. The Princess of Wales has prolonged her stay at Sandringham for fortnights beyond the date which was originally fixed for her arrival in town. The Princess is becoming more and more attached to her country home, and to the quiet domestic life which she leads there with her daughters when there are no guests.

HENRY LABOUCHERE.

Silk Umbrellas, $3 to $15.

Come and see our splendid new stock, qualities guaranteed; names engraved on silver plates on all.

MERMOD & JACCARD JEWELRY CO.,
Cor. 4th and Locust.

MEXICAN MATTERS.

Suppressing Bull Fighting—Killed by a Bull

—President Diaz Decreted.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 2.—Following in the footsteps of Guanajuato and Morelos, Guerrero has suppressed bull fighting.

At the Plaza Del Paseo in this city on Sunday a man attempting to ride a bull was thrown and instantly killed by the infuriated animal.

PRESIDENT DIAZ DECORED.

Sunday noon President Diaz was decorated with the grand cross of the Legion of Honor of France by Count V. A. Castel, French Charge d'Affaires in Mexico. The ceremony occurred in the Ambassadors' Hall at the National Palace before a large audience.

88 to Louisville and Return.

To those who desire to visit Louisville during the meeting of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, held May 8th 15th, the Ohio and Mississippi Railway will sell tickets to Louisville and return at the low rate of $8, good May 7, and returning until May 14. For tickets etc., call at office, 101 and 103 North Fourth street, under Planters' House, or at Union Depot, St. Louis.

Amusement Notes.

The "Battle of Bull Run" is awakening the interest of the people and is viewed daily by many visitors to the Cyclorama Building.

The Jantzen contests and the work of French by Count V. A. Castel, French Charge d'Affaires in Mexico. The ceremony occurred in the Ambassadors' Hall at the National Palace before a large audience.

88 to Louisville and Return.

To those who desire to visit Louisville during the meeting of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, held May 8th 15th, the Ohio and Mississippi Railway will sell tickets to Louisville and return at the low rate of $8, good May 7, and returning until May 14. For tickets etc., call at office, 101 and 103 North Fourth street, under Planters' House, or at Union Depot, St. Louis.

Good Rain.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

NORRINE, Mo., May 2.—The recent rains that have fallen in this neighborhood have moistened the dry ground and greatly refreshed the growing wheat and grass. Gardens and other vegetation have been benefited by the rains. The cold weather has not come up yet. Farmers are well behind this spring.

The Saengerbund Committee.

The monthly meeting of the Central Committee of the North American Saengerbund will be held in room 1 at the Westside Post Building this evening at 8 o'clock. There are some matters of importance to be considered.

EAST ST. LOUIS.

Quaker Scene at the Relay Depot—Other News Across the River.

The Southern Illinois Sportsmen's Association met last night at Mr. Richard Roe's store, on Summit avenue and Seventh street, and a committee was appointed to propose a program of amateur sports at the association's annual meet in this city on May 25, 27 and 28. The Indian Lake Gun Club also met at the same place for its annual election of officers. Mr. S. H. McIlroy was elected President; T. H. White, Vice-President, and Richard Roe, Secretary and Treasurer. The committee will show that several of the members expect to win a good share of the prizes given by the Southern Illinois Sportsmen's Association.

A scene which attracted a great deal of attention was enacted by a robust man and his wife, with two children was about to take the Vandalia train when her husband put in an appearance and the wife refused to go. The man, with his wife, refused to go so and he snatched the baby from her arms, thinking the loss of the child would be her undoing. He was mistaken, however, as she boarded the train without the baby. Seeing that she was not going to take the train, he got on board and the husband and wife got off at the next station.

The Congregation of the Episcopal Church has purchased a site for a new church in the Fourth Ward and are now raising $50,000 for the same.

The National Stock Yards Co., Koeberle Milling Co., Cotton Company Co., and the National Stock Yards Co., have an injunction to restrain the Tax Collector from collecting the road and bridges and bond taxes.

The School Board met last night, and the committee appointed to report upon available funds for new schools in the Second Ward, recommended for first time an extension. An extension was granted until Friday evening.

Rev. Dr. Martin of the First Presbyterian Church, who is a personal friend of the Count, has been granted a dispensation by the Court Chaplain, in which he is allowed to have desired that his release might be prayed for, never took place, and the tales of his pathetic messages to Field Marshal von Blumenthal and His Majesty's old valet are pure fiction.

The Queen was received at the Royal Train with marked indifference. Seeing that she was not going to take the train, he got on board and the husband and wife got off at the next station.

The School Board met last night, and the committee appointed to report upon available funds for new schools in the Second Ward, recommended for first time an extension. An extension was granted until Friday evening.

The Queen was received at the Royal Train with marked indifference. Seeing that she was not going to take the train, he got on board and the husband and wife got off at the next station.

The School Board met last night, and the committee appointed to report upon available funds for new schools in the Second Ward, recommended for first time an extension. An extension was granted until Friday evening.

The Queen was received at the Royal Train with marked indifference. Seeing that she was not going to take the train, he got on board and the husband and wife got off at the next station.

The School Board met last night, and the committee appointed to report upon available funds for new schools in the Second Ward, recommended for first time an extension. An extension was granted until Friday evening.

The Queen was received at the Royal Train with marked indifference. Seeing that she was not going to take the train, he got on board and the husband and wife got off at the next station.

The School Board met last night, and the committee appointed to report upon available funds for new schools in the Second Ward, recommended for first time an extension. An extension was granted until Friday evening.

The Queen was received at the Royal Train with marked indifference. Seeing that she was not going to take the train, he got on board and the husband and wife got off at the next station.

The School Board met last night, and the committee appointed to report upon available funds for new schools in the Second Ward, recommended for first time an extension. An extension was granted until Friday evening.

The Queen was received at the Royal Train with marked indifference. Seeing that she was not going to take the train, he got on board and the husband and wife got off at the next station.

The School Board met last night, and the committee appointed to report upon available funds for new schools in the Second Ward, recommended for first time an extension. An extension was granted until Friday evening.</p